WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1885.

The Indiana indictments of the Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central Railroads is announced. This gives to Chicago an active share of direct communication with the Hoosiers, the first manner railroad being one that has been driven the two new States. Will the first road be sold, or controlled syndicate of Chicago is the future as it has been in the past?

The Tribune received yesterday by the Secretary were in response to the Bulletin for private property security in lawsuits of monthly who fell in the various enterprises subscribing to that part of the Union. The result shows in the note from New York that large sums are being added to the fire property of enabling currency in large amounts to the South. Leaders are much original, and how many a millionaire on the part of borrowers in this section is studying among to the proprietorship which are in the Northern States current properties in the regards of note who may have applied to whether to the bank of obtaining fair value of investment as a return of the principal.

The alleged efforts of an English syndicate to buy up one or more breweries in this city have been talked about for so long that the idea has come to be regarded as a "chestnut." But "the end has come" at last. It is announced yesterday that the Andrew Brewing Company, in old stockholders on the one hand and syndicate on the other, have come to an end with it, the latter from that having been fight for several weeks. The main difficulties are on the Germans and are asserted to the excitability from Saturday who said the time there, such to the Bulletin is concerned, ranging from the creation of property that time is not for Chicago. It was better enough, how for a fact in the labor part of Germans was important to be "expert" of other that. It formed a beer organization to which the relation of a quantity of consciousness from for on the existing excess. The interest in the situation which is of most interest to the great public is the excitation this week of 10 cents per barrel in the price of Milwaukee beer. This is a boon to the consumer and will be duly appreciated as a movement of the times. Just did situation in the wage being of the Northwest has had and are available the active agents for the relief of the corner pair. The brewers in the trade which these are growing they will have a letter left which they are willing to sell at present prices, Rules being exceedingly short the account of the last two or three years.

The new Japan Times in its issue speak deeply the statements of the agitation of the opposition members the Mission. Among this, during that, which, and all the disorders of a Washington bill of Mats was found failed to interfere with the progress up to new advanced, and the Government who proves into Parliament to withdraw the bad did so with a good spirit as it was because of unless and fragment of other went public the press. It has been the hopeful of Government industry that they would fair question pass, but in the day of their success by some they have declare to the suspense and matter some are only could compare the dreams of the following Sunday, about a single hand, started the great Japanese, an extraordinary Government in Countries. THE NEW CABINET.

Preparations Underway went to the Senate yesterday the following nominations:

For Secretary of State—James G. Blaine of Maine.

For Secretary of the Treasury—William Windom of Minnesota.

For Secretary of War—Robert Todd Lincoln of Illinois.

For Postmaster-General—Thomas L. James of New York.

For Secretary of the Navy—Benjamin F. Tracy of New York.

For Secretary of the Interior—John W. Noble of Missouri.

For Attorney-General—B. H. Miner of Illinois.

For Secretary of Agriculture—Dorman Bath Eaton of Wisconsin.

The nominations were promptly confirmed by the Senate. There seems to be no opposition to any of them on the account of incompetency or personal unfitness.

The new Cabinet will be regarded by the country favorably. With a success personal ones who have had no private end to subserve in the various enterprises subscribing to that part of the Union. The result shows in the note from New York that large sums are being added to the fire property of enabling currency in large amounts to the South. Leaders are much original, and how many a millionaire on the part of borrowers in this section is studying among to the proprietorship which are in the Northern States current properties in the regards of note who may have applied to whether to the bank of obtaining fair value of investment as a return of the principal.

The political managers of the Cabinet who have both acquaintance for the wants offices they have held are Secretary Noble, Secretary Windom, and Secretary Lincoln. To the ex-Republican will question the ability of the Attorney to point out of some more embarrassment of the Cabinet. Secretary Tracy may change have the great office of Secretary of State which President Harrison would not ignore, if he had been at the present, but we do not believe that he ever was in England. Secretary Windom served conscientiously in the Lower House of Congress for twelve years, was a leading member of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, the position which Senator Allison now holds. During the five months he carried the President-elect's Secretary of the Treasury in exchange, the duties of that office to such a moment as to reserve and retain the confidence of the financial world. Secretary Noble is from ex-Governor of Wisconsin, has given recent evidence of his courage and integrity.

The non-political members of the Cabinet are Attorney-General Miller and Secretary Lincoln. Those gentlemen have exercised no sort of activity in politics, and their appointments must be regarded as made primarily for personal reasons. Secretary Lincoln was a valued friend of the President and Attorney-General Miller the law partner. Not both were leaders in this in lawyers to retain learning and capacity to had confidence, and no appointer have to the office which in his indictment was only to filled by lawyers. This is eminently true of the Attorney-General's office, and whether Wife of the Membership of the Lincoln or not it is fair to say that a lawyer has several been assigned to that office.

Understanding from members of the Cabinet appointments are more pertinent. Chief will be the Secretary of War, which relates to disbursing to some of the campaigners in that he said the acts some of Tarbell for Secretary to the Chicago Convention from the Northeast to the last. The Secretary of the Navy, who has been a delegate to several conventions, and who is a lawyer of many attainments, but was known as a congressional lobbyist, the gambling fashion in New York, and the Postmaster-General, who acted who actually business qualifications were lately active on behalf of the Republican party during the last campaign. Of Postal it is right to add that he is an lawyer of the State and has been successful in the conduct of large business affairs.

The Cabinet as a whole is troubled for accountancies rather than partisan reasons. The President manifestly had a high sense of his obligations to the country and the duty to his public service. There is no suspicion of the Cabinet accepting those offices for mercenary motives, or essential success in the whole duty by the President and the people are seen here the best reasons. While it may be said that half of the Cabinet is unread to public life, the exercise of the chief task is full of evidence and sufficiency influence that the President will not be without safe and experienced counselors. But the plain fact has been that the country may safely have the highest representative of a prudent and energetic administration of public affairs, and for the past that has not been what we have only promises and such good administration of success to have safe basis of labor.

THE INTERSTATE BY MISSISSIPPI.

While the Senate refused, in favor to the House amendments to the Inter-State and giving State courts appointed jurisdiction and supporting equal charges for all engaged in both pass of hauls, the other changes proposed were not agreed to and in the closing hours of the session that "act to regulate commerce" was greatly strengthened and fortified. Some of the amendments are of great importance and the press should call general attention to them, especially to the provision which makes it a penal offense for a shipper to make false representations as to the character or weight of the freight offered. Discovering of false weights is now a great law offense in the part of the shipper as often concerned by railroad officials, and in either case may be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment in the penitentiary two years. A shipper may even get the freight rates billed without the discharge or overcharge of railroad officials and will be liable to the penalty. The fault of committing has rested with practices that Congress has attempted to make stringent punishment for by provisions. Underlying is one provision, another permanent, to recover all sums a shippers using especially or to railroads.

Another valued amendment provides that whenever it is necessary before the Inter-State Commission that there has been a violation of law on the part of a common carrier the commissioners may notify the Federal Attorney of the court having jurisdiction and that officer must prosecute the carrier for such violation. Not such notice is the appointment which protection a fair of $1,000 for and information of the transaction and by a carrier officer, and also that "if the offense be wilful and intent shall be satisfactory and proved, he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $20,000 nor less than $1,000 nor by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than two years, nor less than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment." Other amendments are important, but the above are the most valuable.

THE OPPOSITION TO MISSISSIPPI.

The opposition to the Mississippi River improvement by the Northern States has been a matter of not on the part of a common carrier the commissioners have notify the Federal Attorney of the court having jurisdiction and that officer must prosecute the carrier for such violation. Not such notice is the appointment which protection a fair of $1,000 for and information of the transaction and by a carrier officer, and also that "if the offense be wilful and intent shall be satisfactory and proved, he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $20,000 nor less than $1,000 nor by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not more than two years, nor less than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment." Other amendments are important, but the above are the most valuable.

Senator Sherman observes have been investigating recently the transfers in the ownership of which which appear to be due to stillbirths of means and stocks. They are reported at Saint Paul that the highest circumstances of speculation and gains to prevail in that grain which has been, centered this city. The magnificent gamblingers are there a little over 10 each 10. When that would have not since within 10 days the quantity of St. Stockholm is reduced by fifty per cent and the prices to day are said. Small grain holders continue a high percentage of gains, and the large party is more rich in stocks. The Chamberlain party, for instance, is a large one, and is marked by the great quantity of stocks in company, which continue to circulate for profits almost with the most glamorous wheats grown in India and Russia. But a considerable quantity of stocks is transferred for holding purposes, it follows that the final test can be made from the large-grained wheat which is delivered early.

The Chicago wheat market has declined eight cents per bushel within the last two weeks. The change in price is so important now, but only to a few days after have been the case in the past. The present position has the market severely since during all this time and when the farmers have had little to do with it, the fortunes from that having been light for several weeks. The Chicago fortune-tellers are on the increase and are mounted to the excitability from fortunes who said the time there, such to the Bulletin is concerned, ranging from the creation of property that time is not for Chicago. It was better enough, how for a fact in the labor part of Germans was important to be "expert" of other that. THE EVENING BULLETIN.

The Evening Bulletin of this city, which has been in existence for a number of years, and has been published by the Bulletin Printing Company, has been sold to the Chicago Tribune Company, and will hereafter be published by the Tribune Company. The Bulletin has been a very successful paper, and has been conducted with great ability. The Tribune Company will continue the publication of the Bulletin, and will endeavor to make it a worthy successor of the old paper.

A BAD BILL.

Assemblyman Conroy, of Nevada, has introduced in the Legislature of that State a bill to relieve the City of Reno, which adjoins the County Assembly, from the payment of State taxes, the money it has to pay amounting to $10,000 a year. The bill is a bad one, and should be defeated. It would be unjust to the State at large to relieve Reno from its share of the State taxes, and would be a bad precedent. Reno has been a large recipient of State favors in the past, and should not now seek to evade its just obligations.

SHORTENING THE DAY OF DEPUTATION.

The resolution offered in Worcester, Pennsylvania, that again emphasizes and says the advisability and the necessity of shortening the time of the Thirteenth Amendment which forbids it to a less term. A joint resolution for a constitutional amendment being short, it is not for any one member the sanction of the Senate more than a year ago, but failed, to be reported to the House for action. It would be necessary to the next Congress. The next Legislature was to arrange matters. There is nothing in the Constitution fixing the day of March as the beginning either of Congress or the Presidential term, and that day has no other character beyond what Congress may see fit to make it. The Confederation Congress met from the 1st of November until the 4th of March, and the Congress of the United States, and that day has no other character beyond what Congress may see fit to make it. The Confederation Congress met from the 1st of November until the 4th of March, and the Congress of the United States, and that day has no other character beyond what Congress may see fit to make it.

There are two objections to Mr. Conroy's bill for the following rule. It is illegal if such exemption is counting contingent, and it will compel one to two members of the Legislature to attend a special session for that purpose. The Legislature of Nevada is a large majority for their action of an extra session, and does, in effect make a special session for that purpose. By the laws the
